Two Bound Over In Box Car Fire

Pair Blamed For Causing Blaze At Lincoln Plastics Plant Here

Two men, Luther Chaffin and Chester Wolfe, have been bound over to the Pickaway County grand jury on accusation of setting fire to a railroad box car parked near a local plant of the Lincoln Plastics Company.

Chaffin, 20, of Kingston Route 1, pleaded innocent Thursday before Circleville Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb. Wolfe, 22, of Circleville, entered a plea of guilty. Bond was set at $2,500 for each man.

Specifically, the two are accused of "unlawfully, wilfully and maliciously burning a railway car belonging to the Burlington Railway Co." Value of the box car, which was loaded with refrigerator parts made by the firm, was "$25 upward to $3,000." The contents were valued "$25 upward to $6,752.70."

Merlin Mitton, state arson investigator, said Chaffin was near the plant when the box car was damaged. Chaffin and Wolfe were taken into custody after investigators said they traced auto tire tracks and fingerprints found at the scene of the fire.

A BOX CAR was parked on a siding directly across the street from the main entrance to the plant in Circleville's Southend. City firemen extinguished the blaze.

According to police reports, the seal on the boxcar door had been

Old Nazi Plane Lifted From Lake

LINZ, Austria (AP)—The body of a man, several large boxes and containers were discovered today in the hulk of German courier plane salvaged from the bottom of an Austrian Alpine lake.

The plane, rumored to contain gold and documents of Hitler and his plucked into Lake Atter after being shot down by U. S. fighters near the end of the war.

The contents will be taken out and examined in the presence of Austrian authorities.

Vandals Plaguing Columbus Police

COLUMBUS (AP)—Police say they expect a repeat tonight of last night's outburst of vandalism and robberies here in a pre-holiday celebration of Halloween.

Police were kept hopping all night as youngsters in costumes went around collecting pennies.

One 12-year-old girl was the victim of an attempted criminal assault. Police estimated there were 20 strong arm grabbers. In two cases, victims were threatened with knives and robbed.

French Prison Guard Strike Ends

PARIS (AP)—Life in France's 120 prisons returned to normal today after 7,000 guards decided to end their strike.

The guards' decision was reached after the government promised them to study their problems "within eight days." The guards want a $14.48 monthly bonus which would raise their wages to about $100 a month.

1955 College Frosh Below Par Of 1927

CORALLIS, Ore. (AP)—Dr. Herbert B. Nelson, head of the English department at Oregon State College, tested this year's class of 1,800 freshmen by giving them the same English examination that was given in 1927.

A comparison of the scores, Nelson said, showed the freshmen 28 years ago were better spellers and knew more about formal grammar. Both groups did about the same on sentence usage questions.

Students taking the 163-question test in 1927 made an average of 53 errors. This fall the average was 66 mistakes.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Greater Cleveland's Community Chest campaign went $195,795 over the top last night for a record collection of $8,110,000. In Canton, workers for the Greater Canton United Fund beat their $879,217 goal by $21,000.

Dakota Wheatmen Rap Farm Setup

Crop Limits Said Too Tight; Benson Ouster Report Denied

MINOT, N. D. (AP)—The Senate Agriculture Committee found today that North Dakota farmers think their wheat is getting a bad deal under present farm programs.

In statements before committee on declining farm income, several farmers complained that crop control limitations are too tight on wheat grown in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana.

Dean Glenn C. Holm of the North Dakota Agricultural College said that the hard red spring and durum classes grown in these states are the kinds that milling plants.

The magazine is edited by Wheeler McMillen, whose son Robert is an assistant to Benson. The younger McMillen sat in when Benson talked about the article.

Federal production controls apply the same restrictions to all grades.

"Is it logical," he asked, "that the same acreage reductions be applied to all classes of wheat when we consider the final use of those wheat classes? Shouldn't production be geared to the need?"

Mayor Hedges said everyone should have good, clean fun but not commit acts of vandalism." He said that any violence would be severely punished.

CITY SAFETY Director Miller Fissell said police would maintain a special watch on activities tonight due in part to the coinciding football game. He noted that, in addition to regular police cars, two unmarked autos would patrol the city.

Officials reminded juveniles to "think twice before using Halloween as an excuse for committing vandalism." They pointed to the recent case of teenagers who were taken into custody after they had been punctured.

In one of the most savage attacks ever made by one British newspaper upon another, the tabloid said the Times' editorial lecture to the princess Wednesday bore "no relation to the wishes of the vast majority of people."

The Mirror, which claims a daily circulation of more than 4½ million, the world's largest, described the Times as a "newspaper selling 22,972 copies a day."

"It serves for a dusty world and a forgotten age," said the Mirror. "Any idea that the Times and its stony cronies speak with authority must be scuttled."

The Times editorial said the marriage of the 25-year-old Margaret and the 40-year-old Peter Townsend, a hero of the Battle of Britain but a divorced commoner, would put the royal family in an impossible position.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, ranking prelate of the Church of England, is on the paper's Board of Trustees. As head of the church, the archbishop is perhaps the most determined opponent of the princess' marrying a divorced man.

U. S. Business
Facing Major
Selling Task

COLUMBUS (AP)—A New York advertising executive says America must sell $40 billion more worth of goods and services in 1956 than last year to assure continued expansion of its economy.

Arno H. Johnson, vice president and research director for J. Walter Thompson Co., today painted a glowing picture of ever-increasing prosperity through 1956 in an address prepared for the 12th annual advertising conference at Ohio State University.

He said advertisers can help lay the groundwork for a higher American standard of living through increased production.

"Advertising is the educational force—the 'activating' force—that can bring about these needed changes in demand," he said.

The New Yorker said that to foster increased consumption and production "millions of Americans" must change their habits, desires, motives, ideas of what satisfies them and their level of demand for the things that measure a standard of living.

He said the $40 billion increase was in line with President Eisenhower's report to Congress that a gross national product of $500 billion was feasible by 1965.

Columbus Area Gas Rates Hiked

COLUMBUS (AP)—The price of gas in Columbus, Springfield and nine suburban communities in the Columbus area is going up one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet Dec. 1.

This was announced today by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. which said higher cost of gas from suppliers is responsible for the increase.

Ohio Fuel has an escalator clause in its rate agreements which permits automatic adjustments.

In addition to Columbus and Springfield, the rate increase will apply to Bexley, Grandview, Hanover, Marble Cliff, Riverlea, Upper Arlington, Valleyview, Whitehall and Worthington.

New Hybrid Apple Is Red To Core

TSURUTA, Japan (AP)—Kenzo Maeda, 74, has harvested 50 apples with the deep-down blush, red to the core.

The crop of one hybrid tree climaxed years of experiment. He said his orchard within a few years would produce in market quantities.

As the President continued work on the rough draft of the State of the Union message he will submit to Congress in January, he kept his calendar free of official callers until the arrival tomorrow of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The coins were distributed at tellers' windows in daily banking operations. Later, a "run" was made on the local bank when value of the silver pieces was learned. In the Northwest, use of silver dollars as a medium of exchange is common.

Hartman Warns City Schools Short In Substitute Teachers

George Hartman, superintendent of Circleville city schools, disclosed today that the school system is highly vulnerable in its lack of substitute teachers.

"We have been very fortunate in having a good list of permanent teachers," Hartman said. "But the booby-trap in the picture is in our lack of substitutes—the teachers we can call upon immediately when one of the regulars is sick or otherwise unable to handle his or her duties."

Hartman pointed out that even a mild epidemic of winter colds or similar ailments could prove "extremely serious for the school system, and probably force us to hold classes altogether."

Hartman said the shortage of substitute teachers extends from the first grade through the high school levels.

He urged anyone certified to teach, and willing to serve as substitute, to phone Circleville 15 at the earliest possible opportunity.

Rival Proposals Exchanged At Geneva Parley

Russian Plan Rejected By West Which Offers Treaty Of Assurance'

GENEVA (AP)—Russia and the Western powers clashed in the Big Four foreign ministers meeting today with apparently irreconcilable plans for European security.

The word came out as U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan conferred for an hour on the problems created by the Soviet bloc's thrusts into the Middle East.

The United States, Britain and France got in first, presenting to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov a nine-point "treaty of assurance" on the reunification of Germany."

It would become fully effective only if East and West Germany were united and the new Germany became a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

Molotov responded with a 15-point proposal for a European security treaty, delaying German unification indefinitely. Under the Soviet program the North Atlantic Alliance would be destroyed, Communist China would become an "observer" in Europe and all American troops would eventually have to be withdrawn "from the territories of European countries."

BY THE TIME Molotov acted the Western ministers had already rejected his proposal. They based their statement, in advance of its presentation, on Russian proposals which had been made at the Geneva summit conference in July.

A whole series of gun-fighting Western movies have been brought to Fitzsimons Army Hospital for viewing during the long hours of convalescence.

And every day brings new word of increasing physical activity which doctors say he is taking in stride. Heartening steps that are being increased in number as time goes by.

There was cheering news too in Russia's approval of a Western-sponsored resolution providing for steps for creation of an international atoms-for-peace agency.

Meanwhile, the White House, challenging a published report that some Cabinet members tried to oust Secretary of Agriculture Benson, says "the entire administration" is working with Benson on the farm problem.

A White House statement termed "not only untrue but completely unfounded" the report published by Farm Journal, one of the largest publications in its field.

And Benson himself, due for a Denver conference with President Eisenhower tomorrow, said:

"There has been no split in the Cabinet on the farm situation."

Farm Journal said a move to dislodge Benson was started by

Rare Silver Dollars Put In Circulation

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—One thousand rare silver dollars, which coin collectors had valued as high as $65 each as collectors' items, were placed in circulation here this week at $1 a throw.

The money, minted in Carson City, Nev., in 1893, was received by a local bank in a routine shipment from the Federal Reserve Bank at Minneapolis.

The coins were distributed at tellers' windows in daily banking operations. Later, a "run" was made on the local bank when value of the silver pieces was learned. In the Northwest, use of silver dollars as a medium of exchange is common.

Killed In Collision

LANCASTER (AP)—Myron Shurlock, 23, of Rt. 4 Logan, was killed last night when his car skidded headon into a truck.

The state highway patrol reported Shurlock apparently became confused by a car parked at the side of Ohio 312 south of Breckenridge and braked his car into a skid. The truck driver, Frederick Hoffman, 37, of Lancaster, suffered broken ribs and internal injuries and was hospitalized in Lancaster.

56 GIs Jailed

TOKYO (AP)—In the two years that American servicemen have been subject to Japanese law 269 have been indicted and 56 are serving terms in prison here.

Israel's Premier Moshe Sharett met here last night with French Foreign Minister Pinay on the sale of arms to Egypt by Communist Czechoslovakia.

HE PLANNED to meet with the other Big Four ministers as rapidly as possible, protesting also to Molotov on the arms sale.

Western officials said the sale of Communist weapons to Arab nations may serve two purposes of Soviet strategy. The shipments could lead to fresh and dangerous trouble in the region. The Western Powers have been trying hard to stabilize, and might lead to a situation where Russia will demand a voice in big power decisions in the area.

Meanwhile, in the troubled Holy Land itself, an Israeli military informant said 10 Egyptian soldiers were slain and 20 captured early today by an Israeli force which stormed and captured an Egyptian frontier post. Israel said the raid was in retaliation for an earlier Egyptian assault on an Israeli police post.

An Egyptian spokesman in Cairo said four Egyptians and four Israelis were killed in the attack, which took place at Kuntilla, about three miles inside Egyptian-held territory. The spokesman said the Israeli force was driven off.

Egypt filed a strong protest with the U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission.

The clash followed an Egyptian attack Tuesday on an Israeli police check post at Beerotayim in the demilitarized El Auja-Nizana border zone, the spokesman said. Man-on-the-street opinion in the Israeli sector here regarded last night's raid as "justified."

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the "purpose of the attack was to emphasize what should have been clear to Egypt—that their attack on Israel would be met by countercattack."

The two men were located through the combined efforts of city police and sheriff's deputies. A third man gave himself up voluntarily but was later released.

The United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastics Workers of America (CIO) has been on strike at the plant since Oct. 10. The union was certified as a bargaining agent for plant employees by the very narrow margin of four votes. No contract has ever been signed between the union and the firm.

French Premier Upheld Again

Third Confidence Vote In Month Given Faure

PARIS (P) — Premier Edgar Faure today won a vote of confidence 271-239 from the French National Assembly clearing the way for a quick debate on moving up national elections to the month of December.

The victory was the third for Faure this month in the balky Assembly. Each time he had been out in a difficult position and had seemed to be near defeat.

On Oct. 9, after four Gaullist ministers resigned from his Cabinet, Faure unexpectedly got help from Socialists and Communists to win, 477 to 140, on his policies for Morocco. On Oct. 18, some Gaullists came to his rescue and he won a 308-254 confidence vote on a program for Algeria.

Today he was solidly opposed by Socialists and got practically no help from the Gaullists, but by pulling the centrist parties tightly together, the Premier managed to survive his toughest test.

TODAY'S VOTE was on the government's general policies. The resolution adopted merely "takes note" of statements by Faure and Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin on financial and economic policies which have guided the government and the results obtained. Rejected were Socialist and Communist motions expressing no confidence in the government.

The real issue was the question of moving up general elections to December, as Faure has requested. The regular election of deputies is scheduled for next June, but Faure insists important decisions must be taken in the first six months of 1956 which require continuity of the parliament to back the solutions reached.

French Premier Upheld Again

Third Confidence Vote In Month Given Faure

PARIS (AP) — Premier Edgar Faure today won a vote of confidence 271-259 from the French National Assembly clearing the way for a quick debate on moving up national elections to the month of December.

The victory was the third for Faure this month in the balky Assembly. Each time he had been out in a difficult position and had seemed to be near defeat.

On Oct. 9, after four Gaullist ministers resigned from his Cabinet, Faure unexpectedly got help from Socialists and Communists to win, 477 to 140, on his policies for Morocco. On Oct. 18, some Gaullists came to his rescue and he won a 308-254 confidence vote on a program for Algeria.

Today he was solidly opposed by Socialists and got practically no help from the Gaullists, but by pulling the centrist parties tightly together, the Premier managed to survive his toughest test.

TODAY'S VOTE was on the government's general policies. The resolution adopted merely "takes note" of statements by Faure and Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin on financial and economic policies which have guided the government and the results obtained. Rejected were Socialist and Communist motions expressing no confidence in the government.

The real issue was the question of moving up general elections to December, as Faure has requested. The regular election of deputies is scheduled for next June, but Faure insists important decisions must be taken in the first six months of 1956 which require continuity of the parliament to back the solutions reached.

Utah's Drive On Polygamy Proving To Be Difficult Job

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Local law officials say Utah's latest drive against polygamy is likely to be a difficult chore despite a start made this week with charges filed against four men.

"It's difficult getting the evidence against these people," said State Atty. Gen. E. R. Calister Jr., "because for the most part none of them practices polygamy openly. And a lot of them have wives in different houses in different sections of the city or of the state, for that matter."

Calister commented as Salt Lake County officers continued to look for two men already named in complaints accusing them of "unlawful cohabitation." Two others named in similar complaints have been arraigned.

Are others to be charged with polygamy? Not immediately, officials indicated. Salt Lake County Atty. Frank E. Moss says his office is looking into "six or eight" possible cases.

An investigator who declined to be identified had this to say on the difficulty of pinning down evidence of polygamy:

"SOME OF THE man," he said,

Trading Stamps Stir Up Cincy Controversy

Merchants At Odds Over Use Of Plan To Promote Sales

CINCINNATI (AP) — Little stamps can cause big controversies.

The British Stamp Act of 1765 stirred up the American colonists. And while no revolution will ensue, stamps are the cause of a big battle today among Cincinnati merchants.

The fight started when two large chains, the Kroger Co. and Albers Super Markets, adopted the tactic of trading stamps. These are common in some Ohio cities and in other parts of the country, but it was the first major invasion of stamp plans in Cincinnati.

A housewife gets a trading stamp for every 10 cents she spends in the store. She pastes them in a book and exchanges one or several books for silverware, electrical appliances, luggage, lamps, sporting equipment, toys, hardware or clocks.

Kroger and Albers officials say there is no increase in food prices because of the trading stamps. They contend the added business they receive as a result of the stamps more than compensates for the cost.

Independent grocers and other chains scoff at that claim. They say the cost of the premiums is added to the price the housewife pays for her coffee and tomato juice.

One chain challenged the stamp plans with the advertisement, "Save dollars instead of stamps at Thriftway."

Kroger's Top Value stamp plan advertised for other merchants to sign up: "Merchants! You, too, can get new customers! Make new friends by giving Top Value stamps." Each stamp plan says it is better.

The food chains purchase the stamps from the trade stamp company at a price which covers the cost of the gifts, the printing of stamps, stamp books and catalogues and the setting up of merchandise stores.

The Cincinnati Retail Grocers & Meat Dealers Assn. said an overwhelming majority of its members are opposed to the use of stamp plans to promote trade. It warned the public:

"Stamps are not 'free.' They cost a lot of money. So do catalogues, window signs, circulars, radio and TV and other forms of advertising used to promote stamp plans."

"When premiums are handled on such a mass scale, they run into millions of dollars, which cost must be passed on to the consumer."

"This is true because margins of profit are lower today in the retail food business than at any time since the depression..."

Ex-U. S. Korean Ambassador Quits As Aide To Foundation

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur H. Dean, former U. S. ambassador to Korea, announced he has resigned as a director of the Fund for the Republic for "policy reasons."

Asked if this meant he was quitting because of the organization's policies, Dean said, "yes." He declined to go into details.

The fund, an independent foundation set up to promote the principles of the Constitution, Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence, has been accused by some groups of left-wing activities.

Dean, a corporation lawyer and head of the United Nations peace team that negotiated the peace terms in Korea, said he resigned Sept. 27 as a member of the fund's 16-member board of directors.

He said he did not want to discuss specific reasons, and referred further inquiries to Paul G. Hoffman, former Economic Administrator of Cooperation Administration and now chairman of the fund's board.

Hoffman was reported in Chicago. The New York Journal-American said it reached him by telephone and he referred queries back to Dean, saying "It would be most inappropriate for me to reveal why he resigned."

"I can't believe Mr. Dean doesn't believe in the Bill of Rights," Hoffman was quoted as adding.

Informed of this conversation, Dean commented: "I don't want to get in a tizzy with Hoffman. We'll let it stand."

The president of the fund, set up by a grant from the Ford Foundation, is Robert M. Hutchins, former University of Chicago president.

The Fund for the Republic has stated as it aims the protection of civil liberties — "elimination of restrictions on freedom of thought and inquiry and the development of policies and procedures to protect these rights."

The fund has drawn fire from to deceive our customers into thinking that such a cost is not passed on to the customer in one way or another," the association said that if consumer demand necessitated such a system, it would establish its own plan.

The Greater Cincinnati Gasoline Dealers Assn. called the stamps "a destructive medium of advertising, harmful to business and consumers alike."

But most customers seem to like the stamps. Of course, there are dissenters.

"You buy $150 worth of groceries to get a minnow bucket," said one shopping for the household.

A disgruntled housewife said it takes 30 to 40 minutes longer to check out of the supermarket because the cashiers now must count stamps as well as make change.

But these complaints aren't likely to cancel the march of the stamps. One trading stamp concern said a tombstone dealer is passing out the stamps with the purchase of each headstone.

Prices In U. S. Continuing To Rise Slowly

Consumer Can Expect To Feel Present-Day Change In Future

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices continue their slow rise as manufacturers adjust to higher costs. But nowadays retail prices don't necessarily follow wholesale prices as they tended to a generation or so ago.

Price increases were announced this week in many fields—from newsprint to tin cans, from tires to corduroy, from plywood to prunes.

Consumers may feel some of this increase in the weeks ahead. The newsprint hike, for example, brought a quick prediction that the price of papers and of the ads in them may have to go up, too.

The rise in tin can prices will be felt by the canners preserving next year's foodstuffs. Whether they pass it along to the grocer, trooped into the cafe where Mrs. Gillis works. When they departed, they left a 200-pound tombstone.

The marble slab, which Mrs. Gillis turned over to police, bore the inscription: "Peter F. Fagan, Died Jan. 24, 1906, Age 49."

and he to you, will be determined then.

Most rubber companies have hiked the factory price of inner tubes and tube-type car and truck tires. For the average passenger car tire the price rise comes to 35 cents. Again, it will be the retail tire seller who must make the decision as far as the motorist is concerned.

As the new models of cars continue to make their debuts, factory list price increases over last year are usually announced. They averaged around 5 per cent. But the dealer has the final say.

Visitors to the National Business Show here this week find prices of most office machines and equipment up from 5 to 15 per cent over last year. Manufacturers, gloomy over their rising costs, say prices may go still higher.

Birch-faced fir plywood prices are going up 5 per cent in the Pacific Northwest.

The Labor Department reports that building costs in general are 8.4 per cent higher than in mid-1954 and have risen 26 per cent in the last six years. Metal building materials particularly are rising. Labor costs have increased.

Predictions of further price increases shaping up come from several sectors. At a National Shoe Retailers Assn. meeting in Chicago a boost of about 25 cents a pair wholesale was foreseen next spring.

A poll of members of the American Institute of Accountants, meeting in Washington, shows two-thirds of them expecting a moderate increase in prices next year.

But the Federal Reserve Board sees inflation pressures generally hold in check. It reports: "Credit restraint in all major industrial nations, including the United States has helped to maintain general price stability and so to moderate the swings in the value of world trade."

PORTRUSH (PA) — A shortage of $19,782 in village funds at nearby New Boston has resulted in the town's former auditor, James E. McCoy, 46, pleading guilty to embezzlement.

other embezzlement counts and filed demurrers on four more. Common Pleas Judge Vernon Smith of Scioto County yesterday referred McCoy's case to the probation department.

Trading Stamps Stir Up Cincy Controversy

Merchants At Odds Over Use Of Plan To Promote Sales

CINCINNATI (AP) — Little stamps can cause big controversies.

The British Stamp Act of 1765 stirred up the American colonists. And while no revolution will ensue, stamps are the cause of a big battle today among Cincinnati merchants.

The fight started when two large chains, the Kroger Co. and Albers Super Markets, adopted the tactic of trading stamps. These are common in some Ohio cities and in other parts of the country, but it was the first major invasion of stamp plans in Cincinnati.

A housewife gets a trading stamp for every 10 cents she spends in the store. She pastes them in a book and exchanges one or several books for silverware, electrical appliances, luggage, lamps, sporting equipment, toys, hardware or clocks.

Kroger and Albers officials say there is no increase in food prices because of the trading stamps. They contend the added business they receive as a result of the stamps more than compensates for the cost.

Independent grocers and other chains scoff at that claim. They say the cost of the premiums is added to the price the housewife pays for her coffee and tomato juice.

One chain challenged the stamp plans with the advertisement, "Save dollars instead of stamps at Thriftway."

Kroger's Top Value stamp plan advertised for other merchants to sign up: "Merchants! You, too, can get new customers! Make new friends by giving Top Value stamps." Each stamp plan says it is better.

The food chains purchase the stamps from the trade stamp company at a price which covers the cost of the gifts, the printing of stamps, stamp books and catalogues and the setting up of merchandise stores.

The Cincinnati Retail Grocers & Meat Dealers Assn. said an overwhelming majority of its members are opposed to the use of stamp plans to promote trade. It warned the public:

"Stamps are not 'free.' They cost a lot of money. So do catalogues, window signs, circulars, radio and TV and other forms of advertising used to promote stamp plans."

"When premiums are handled on such a mass scale, they run into millions of dollars, which cost must be passed on to the consumer."

"This is true because margins of profit are lower today in the retail food business than at any time since the depression..."

After declaring "We do not want the American Legion and other groups.

One of the criticisms has been directed at the fund paying Earl Browder, Communist leader in America in the 1930's, for information he gave in a survey it is making on effects of communism in America.

Browder was paid to be interviewed because of his policies, Dean said, "yes." He declined to go into details.

The Fund for the Republic, founded Dr. Clinton Rosister, a Cornell university professor, about a year ago to study Communist influence in major areas of American life.

Rosister said last month that Browder was paid to be interviewed.

Browder was paid only for his information and will not contribute to the study group's report as an author, consultant or researcher, Rosister said.

Browder was among dozens who have been interviewed by the study group, the professor said.

Rosister said the Fund for the Republic had given him a completely free hand in making the survey and that it will be "as objective as a group of loyal Americans can make it."

Big 'Tip' Listed As Grave Error

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Waitress Lottie Gillis has received her biggest tip but concedes it was a grave error.

A group of youths wearing jackets inscribed "Valley Cats"

trooped into the cafe where Mrs. Gillis works. When they departed, they left a 200-pound tombstone.

The marble slab, which Mrs. Gillis turned over to police, bore the inscription: "Peter F. Fagan, Died Jan. 24, 1906, Age 49."

Prices In U. S. Continuing To Rise Slowly

Consumer Can Expect To Feel Present-Day Change In Future

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices continue their slow rise as manufacturers adjust to higher costs. But nowadays retail prices don't necessarily follow wholesale prices as they tended to a generation or so ago.

Price increases were announced this week in many fields—from newsprint to tin cans, from tires to corduroy, from plywood to prunes.

Consumers may feel some of this increase in the weeks ahead. The newsprint hike, for example, brought a quick prediction that the price of papers and of the ads in them may have to go up, too.

The rise in tin can prices will be felt by the canners preserving next year's foodstuffs. Whether they pass it along to the grocer, and he to you, will be determined then.

Most rubber companies have hiked the factory price of inner tubes and tube-type car and truck tires. For the average passenger car tire the price rise comes to 35 cents. Again, it will be the retail tire seller who must make the decision as far as the motorist is concerned.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am writing to you because I am so shy in school that the boys mock me when I walk by. They call my name, very drawn-out, and then laugh, which embarrasses me so much that I sometimes wish I weren't alive. I don't talk much and therefore don't have many friends.

Once I heard, through my sister, that a girl friend and her elder brother talked about me; and the girl told my sister that the boy thought I seemed like a nice Christian girl, and he pitied me because I don't have dates. He doesn't go to my school; he sees me only at church. In public it seems that I just can't attract people to myself.

Yes, I know it starts at home. The person who really gripes me is mother. I doubt that she has said one good thing about me since I was a baby. It seems I always do the wrong thing. Whatever I do, she finds something I haven't done and gripes about that.

I am just awakening to the fact that dad isn't as bad as she makes out. When she is berating one of us kids, if dad says anything, she turns on him and says "Slurs! All I can get out of you is slurs! You just shut up! Who does all the work around here anyway?" When he just sits there, with an all-knowing, pitying, mocking grin, she gradually runs out of things to say, and turns on us again.

Few Bright Spots

This example, a common occurrence, doesn't encourage us to be little angels. Home is just one big whirl of kids bickering, parents getting mad, and bang! A big quarrel! Over and over again. At night mom screams and yells and runs from room to room, turning off lights, trying to get us to bed. If one light bulb is on, the whole family can see it, so we all have to go to bed at once.

However, what I have written is the bad picked out of the good. There are a few bright spots in my days. I read a lot, and I read the Bible daily. Mom sees every book I bring in, and whenever she catches me reading, she tells me to get up and get to work. I hope you've got enough of the picture to tell me how to improve my relations at school, so I will be more friendly and not mocked.

Long Distance Operators Set For AT&T Strike

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials of Local 4350 of the CIO Communications Workers of America (long distance operators) reported its 1,000 members voted last night to support any strike that may be called against the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Miss Ernie Lockhart, president of the local, said the members of the local include telephone operators in Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus, Cambridge and Newark.

She said the results of the vote here were being forwarded to the union's national bargaining committee in New York.

The union's contract with the A. T. & T. expires at midnight tonight and in New York a company representative said negotiations toward a new contract were progressing "normally."

Puppies Give Kids School 'Vacation'

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Man's best friend turned out to be child's best friend Thursday.

The second grade children at the nearby Cawood elementary school are enjoying an unexpected vacation because a mother dog decided to raise her pups beneath the floor of the frame school building.

The pups whined, the mother barked.

Then County Dog Warden Charles Morrow chopped gaping holes in classroom floor to remove the cause of the disturbance.

Principal John Ellis said the holes cause a draft and the room can't be heated, so he dismissed classes until further notice.

Exact Copies Of Parisian Gowns Wouldn't Sell Here

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Women who yearn for an original Paris gown probably wouldn't like it as it appears in the couturier's salon, says Arthur Jablow, a breezy American business man who keeps up with fashion's whimsies on both sides of the Atlantic.

"Take Dior's 'Y-line' for instance," says Jablow. "It's exciting, it's a new idea, it's wonderful — except that no American woman could wear it the way it was shown originally. But after it's changed to suit the figure and the taste of Americans—that's something different."

Optimistic View

Now, about yourself. You are an exceptionally attractive girl, I gather, with a special trait of shy reserve. Your letter shows that you have a bright mind and a way with words that could make you a professional writer, if you like. Your appetite for reading supports this bias, as does the somewhat solitary social routine into which a problem home-life steers you. So perhaps you are a great success-in-the-making, now learning about life the hard way, in this family setting. Wisdom can't be easily won, you know.

In mocking your shyness, the school boys are paying you a compliment, unawares. If you weren't magnetic somehow, they wouldn't notice you this way. Their sportive attitude is a clumsy attempt to cover their real interest. The elder brother of your sister's friend is favorably impressed; and I doubt that he ever said he "pitied" you for not having dates. More likely he expressed surprise that you don't date—and was half hoping that he might get a break.

Study "The Sermon on the Mount" (Harper & Brothers) by Emmet Fox, to get the pitch of happy living.

other famous French designers. They are great artists, and they give a needed shot in the arm to the American fashion industry.

"But U. S. manufacturers who buy Paris models rarely make exact copies. They wouldn't sell. They take the idea instead and incorporate it into their own lines.

"The great Paris couturier creates a new silhouette as an artist paints a picture. He does not have to worry about whether it will fit an average size 14, or whether it can be turned out in mass production. He is interested only in its beauty, color and line. If one of his private customers orders it the garment is made to order, with individual alterations made.

"But in this country we have to figure out how to produce a garment that costs $1,500 in Paris to sell in America for $69.75 — or more or less."

Ohio Polio Vaccine Use Is Expanded

COLUMBUS (UPI) — The state health department has made polio vaccine available to Ohio children between the ages of 1 and 10 and pregnant women.

Until now, the vaccine was available only to children between 5 and 9.

Dr. Ralph E. Dworkin, health director, said the decision followed a recommendation made recently by the National Advisory Committee on Polio Vaccine. That group said an increased supply of vaccine would enable each state to extend the priority age group by five additional years.

About 500 Ohio law enforcement officers are expected to attend the conference which ends tomorrow.

Publicity's effect on public trials and criminal apprehension will be discussed by a panel of newsmen, law officers and common pleas judges in an afternoon session to day.

Tonight, an explanation of the state and federal relationship in law enforcement will be given by Warren Olney III, U. S. Department of Justice criminal division chief.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The possibility of world disarmament has been given a lot of publicity since July's summit meeting when President Eisenhower made his sensational "open skies" proposal. On its face, it may have seemed simple.

The President suggested the United States and Russia exchange complete blue prints on their military establishments. Then as a check on each other's honesty, he proposed they agree to aerial inspection of each other from the air.

In spite of repeated optimistic statements about eventual agreement by Harold E. Stassen, the President's special disarmament adviser, the two sides are still far apart.

And any agreement on disarmament at the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting, which began yesterday in Geneva, has a slender chance of getting nowhere. A look at the problem shows why.

For years the United States has said that before this country would agree to disarm—which would mean getting rid of the atomic weapons on which it had spent so much time and cash—there would have to be this kind of agreement:

Before any disarmament the big powers must agree on a foolproof system of checking to prevent cheating. This country backed the idea of international teams of inspectors free to roam around inside the territory of the big powers.

The Russians wouldn't buy. They traditionally had refused to let outsiders poke around inside Russia. Then last May, no doubt as part of their so-called new look, they agreed to inspection but in a very limited way.

They suggested international inspectors be stationed only at airfields, railheads and harbors. That left a lot of territory uninspected. The United States wouldn't buy.

Then in July at Geneva, Eisenhower offered his suggestion. After many weeks the Russians insisted they wanted Eisenhower to accept their idea of limited ground inspectors.

Eisenhower replied in effect: "All right, if it'll make you happy, I'll agree on limited inspection. But I want you to agree on the aerial inspection too. How about it?"

So far—no answer from the Russians. But there is a point which the Russians certainly would want cleared up which this country hasn't cleared up at all. The President had spoken of aerial inspection only over each other's territory.

He didn't say anything about letting the Russians inspect American overseas bases inside countries friendly to this country. Yet it is from those bases the United States would hit Russia if the Soviets tried to attack.

Russian Foreign Minister Molotov at Geneva yesterday pointedly said the Soviet Union has liquidated "all its military bases on foreign soil"—in Finland and Manchuria.

Ohioan Sentenced In Forgery Case

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—A Belaire, Ohio, man has been given a one-year prison sentence on charges he and three other men forged and allegedly cashed $5,610 worth of counterfeit $10 win tickets at Wheeling Downs Race Track.

Alphonse Bilello, 34, pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of attempted forgery. Trial for the other three, Eckard Brown, Benwood, Edward Liberatore, Bridgeport, Ohio, and Samuel DeJohn, Belaire, Ohio, has been set for Oct. 31.

Credit Men Told Slowdown Coming

PITTSBURGH (AP)—About 400 credit men from Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania were told yesterday the "exceedingly fast pace" of business the past year can be expected to slow down.

Henry H. Heimann of New York, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Credit men, made the statement yesterday. He spoke at the Ohio Valley Regional Credit Conference which ends today.

Troop Lauds Ohio Newspapers For Stand On Jobless Pay Hike

State Representative Horace W. Troop, chairman of the industry and labor committee of the Ohio house of representatives, said today that "Ohio's newspapers are now vindicating the action of the legislature which refused, in its past session, to bow to the CIO's demand to double unemployment compensation benefits."

"Ohio," said Troop, "has always been blessed with objective newspapers, whether they be conservative, liberal, or middle of the road, and all are busy unmasking the CIO proposal to alter Ohio's unemployment law that seriously threatens the moral and economic life of Ohio."

"Obviously something is wrong with any measure that can evoke the united opposition of virtually every newspaper in a state. The CIO bill has aroused an opposition that is unpredicted in Ohio newspaper history."

"In addition to the active opposition of the large circulation papers, the hundreds of other dailies and weeklies throughout the state are also bringing the true facts on the issue to the attention of their readers and urging a NO vote to the CIO proposal."

"TO THE best of my knowledge, all newspapers in Ohio are opposed to the CIO proposal with but two exceptions—one small weekly favors the bill and another claims neutrality."

"The one outstanding exception to this almost unanimous opposition of the newspapers is, quite logically, the captive CIO union press which effectively distorts the facts, must in all honesty oppose the CIO's outlandish scheme."

The CIO proposal will appear as Issue 4 on the November 8 ballot.

For my money, one of the best things about fall is football. And I know I'm not alone there. But how many of you have tried taking pictures of the game. You couldn't ask for a more wonderful opportunity for good snaps—the players in formation, the mounting excitement of the spectators, the cheerleaders, the band—there are hundreds of picture possibilities that should be recorded for your immediate pleasure and future enjoyment.

The nice thing about it is you can snap your picture right from the grandstand and get excellent results. If your camera has an adjustable lens opening and a fast shutter, you can get good action shots even on a cloudy day using Kodak Tri-X Film. For box cameras we would recommend Kodak Verichrome film.

Eighty-four Cadillac salesmen, with an average income of $17,000 a year—and some making as much as $40,000—struck General Motors Corp., which will probably net a billion dollars this year—a record figure for any business enterprise.

The issue in the walkout is job security. The salesmen recently joined to AFL Brotherhood of Teamsters and the union promptly opened negotiations with the Cadil-

A firm spokesman said only a portion of the total sales force went on strike, affecting showrooms in Manhattan, the Bronx, Brooklyn and New Rochelle, N. Y.

Jesus Proclaims His Mission

ANOINTED TO PREACH THE GOSPEL, HE ANNOUNCES IN THE SYNAGOGUE IN NAZARETH

Scripture—Luke 4:16-44.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN OUR last lesson we studied Jesus in the wilderness tempted by Satan. Today we learn of His announcement of His mission in the world. He had chosen the town of Nazareth where He had been brought up, to proclaim His ministry.

We may wonder what the townspeople of Nazareth thought when they saw Jesus enter the synagogue, which probably was in Jesus' time a simple structure of rectangular walls and a portico.

Men and women sat apart, and the furniture consisted of an ark or chest for the rolls of Scripture, and a reading desk. "Children after the age of five were allowed to be present at the services, and all above 13 years of age were expected to attend."

I have quoted this description from Dr. Thomas M. Lindsay's commentary on St. Luke, as reprinted by Dr. Wilbur Smith in Peloubet's Notes, so the pupils can perhaps visualize the scene when Jesus went into the synagogue. Dr. Lindsay further says

MEMORY VERSE

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."—Luke 4:18, 19.

that "the lessons might be read by any devout Israelite whom the ruler permitted."

Jesus stood up to read and the book of the prophet Isaiah was given Him. Opening it He read: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

How many ministers of the gospel since that time have begun their first sermons in a new parish by quoting those words of the Lord? Most devout men of the gospel feel earnestly that they are called by God to minister to the people, and they sincerely strive to fulfill their missions as Jesus would have them, serving their people in joy or sorrow and in all the vicissitudes of their lives.

After the reading Jesus sat down, while the congregation gazed at Him in wonder. Then He said to them, "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears." As He talked all "wondered at the gracious words which proceeded from the mouth of the man." Jesus Proclaims His Mission

Scripture—Luke 4:16-44.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

IN OUR last lesson we studied Jesus in the wilderness tempted by Satan. Today we learn of His announcement of His mission in the world. He had chosen the town of Nazareth where He had been brought up, to proclaim His ministry.

We may wonder what the townspeople of Nazareth thought when they saw Jesus enter the synagogue, which probably was in Jesus' time a simple structure of rectangular walls and a portico.

Men and women sat apart, and the furniture consisted of an ark or chest for the rolls of Scripture, and a reading desk. "Children after the age of five were allowed to be present at the services, and all above 13 years of age were expected to attend."

I have quoted this description from Dr. Thomas M. Lindsay's commentary on St. Luke, as reprinted by Dr. Wilbur Smith in Peloubet's Notes, so the pupils can perhaps visualize the scene when Jesus went into the synagogue. Dr. Lindsay further says

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."—Luke 4:18, 19.

that "the lessons might be read by any devout Israelite whom the ruler permitted."

Jesus stood up to read and the book of the prophet Isaiah was given Him. Opening it He read: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon Me, because He hath anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."

Next day Jesus went into a desert place, but many sought Him, begging that He would not leave them, but He said: "I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also; for therefore I am sent."

"And He preached in the synagogues of Galilee."

So our Lord began His ministry—ministry that has never been equaled—nor could be—by mortal man. Many thousands of devout men and women have, however, followed in His footsteps in our own country and many other regions of the world to bring His word to those who are in dire need of the Message of Hope and Redemption that He taught. Thank God for them.

Even the smallest children in the class may be taught to see the tender nature of our Lord in helping others, regardless of Himself, and of His courage in saying what He thought, even when it enraged many. Teach them to try, in their small ways, to emulate Jesus in loving helpfulness, and the lesson will be remembered all their lives.

As He talked all "wondered what He said, for it was as if He spake with authority."

Big Ten, Mid-Am Leagues To Match Football Power

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Buckeye football fans get a chance this week and next to learn just how much difference there is between Big Ten and Mid-American Conference teams.

Ohio State's Saturday foe is Northwestern—the team defeated by Miami 25 to 14 in the season's opener. The Mid-American champs under the expert tutelage of Ara Parseghian, scored two touchdowns in practically nothing flat to ice the tilt over Lou Saban's Wildcats.

Ohio University of the Mid-Am, boasting a 3-2 record, plays Indiana Saturday at Bloomington—and next week the Hoosiers come here to battle it out with the Bucks. Indiana and Northwestern are undoubtedly two of the weaker members of the Big Ten—but anything can happen.

Last year Miami was a surprising 6-0 winner over Indiana, and Ohio State trimmed the Hoosiers 28-0. But Bernie Crimmins' Hoosiers rose up to defeat Michigan 13-9 in one of the season's big upsets, trimmed Northwestern, and lost to Michigan State and Purdue by the same one-touchdown margin manufactured by Miami.

Ohio University, back in 1929 under Don Peden, registered an 18-0 win over Indiana—and the best Ohio State could do against the Hoosiers was a 0-0 deadlock.

The Ohio State - Northwestern and Ohio U.-Indiana frays are two of the 13 interstate games on the 20-contest Friday - Saturday program facing Buckeye squads.

Other frays against outsiders are Central State vs McMaster University at Hamilton, Ont., tonight; and Saturday contests which send Bowling Green to Marshall, Western Reserve to Wayne, Detroit to Cincinnati, Anderson (Ind.) to Deacon, Hamilton (N.Y.) to Kenyon, Boston College to Xavier, Chattanooga to Dayton, Sewanee (U. of South) to Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin to Rochester and Northern Michigan to Findlay.

On the strictly at-home front are Miami at Kent State, Mount Union at Heidelberg, Otterbein at Hiram, Wittenberg at Denison, Akron at Wooster, Capital at Muskingum, Wilmington at Ashland, John Carroll at Case, and Marietta at Ohio Northern.

The Ohio teams must win five of the 13 interstate games to stay ahead of the out-of-state squads for the season. Up to now the Buckeye boys have 32 wins, 27 losses and 2 ties in such competition.

Irish Vs Navy Game Is Best Of Weekend

Notre Dame All Primed To 'Win One For Rock' In Saturday Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, geared to "win one for Rock," figure to make or break Navy's fourth-ranked Middies Saturday as college football passes the midfield stripe of the 1955 season.

Notre Dame's run-in with Navy at South Bend, Ind., designated as the Knute K. Rockne Memorial Game by the Irish — is the No. 1 game of the day what with Maryland and Oklahoma, the nation's top two clubs, engaged in a couple of breathers.

Notre Dame, ranked No. 9, has lost only four times in 28 games with the Middies and is favored by a touchdown. Navy, on the threshold of its first unbeaten season since 1925, pins its hopes on George Welsh, the nimble-minded quarterback and passer, and its defensive might—best in the nation.

Notre Dame has quarterback Paul Hornung, the runner-pass, and the memory of Rockne, the coaching immortal who aimed for the heart as well as the head in readying his Irish for big games.

Michigan and Iowa are on the national TV stage at Ann Arbor, Mich. The Wolverines, who fell from favor with a 14-13 decision over Minnesota last week and wound up third in the national poll, are out to get another leg on the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid as well as regain the No. 1 spot.

Michigan is favored by a touchdown and maybe a little more. So is Michigan State, No. 5 in the nation off its decision over Notre Dame, in its Big Ten game at Wisconsin.

UCLA (No. 6), beaten only by Maryland, doesn't figure to have much trouble in a Pacific Coast Conference game with California. West Virginia (No. 7) is favored by two TDs and then some at Marquette. Auburn (No. 8), heading for its first Southeastern Conference crown, carries the same weight against Tulane.

Southern Cal. (No. 10), determined to snag the PCC crown from UCLA, is favored by two touchdowns over Minnesota. But Minneapolis weather may set up an upset.

That game and the West Virginia-Marquette clash are two of the top intersectional meetings of the weekend. Another sends Miami (Fla.), a victim of its own hand by way of a rugged schedule (Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, TCU) pops up at Pittsburgh. Pitt last week nailed previously unbeaten Duke this week has another

Q — What's worth more than money? A — OK used car from Harden Chevrolet.

A — Your money's only worth 50¢ on the dollar, but our OK used cars are worth 100¢ on every dollar. Especially when backed up by our 28 years experience at treating our customers right.

Here's an example or two. A 1954 Pick-up with coat of red — you'll haul money making loads in its big bed — the cab is deluxe with heated too, at $1245.00 it's the buy for you — and

A 1951 Hudson Convertible with 30,000 miles. All leather upholstering, power windows, power seat, hydraulic drive, radio, fresh air heater, white side wall tires, wire disks and many, many other marvelous features. Seeing is believing.

County Narrowly Misses Being Included In Accident Report

Survey Of State Lists Locations Of Bad Crashes

Statistics Take In First Six Months; Area 4 Days Short

Pickaway County narrowly missed being included in report on dangerous locations where five or more accidents have occurred during the first six months of this year.

The intersection of Routes 56 and 104, after being virtually accident-free for several years, suddenly became a "death trap". Within the short space of 26 days, five persons died at the result of crashes at that intersection.

However, the only thing which "saved" the county from being listed as one of the worst in the state was the fact that one crash took place in June and the other in July. As a matter of fact, the second crash happened four days into July.

Pickaway County's record of deaths and injuries due to traffic shows that mishaps are taking place in all parts of the county, rather than being concentrated in one or two areas. Not so long ago, the county did have such areas.

RECALL Keller's Curve on Route 104? Although much work was done there to try to cut down the number of accidents crashes still occur.

Remember Dead Man's Crossing, the intersection of Routes 56 and 159 at Leistville? That nickname was very appropriate, according to accident records.

Then there is the intersection of Routes 22 and 104. Although this intersection did not have an official nickname, it claimed its share of victims.

Highway engineering took care, for the most part, of Keller's Curve. Blinker flasher lights were installed at the other two intersections. Since then, there have been few if any mishaps at those points.

The statistical division of the Ohio Department of Highway Safety has compiled a report on 95 "accident prone" locations throughout the state. This report was recently released to all State Patrol stations and sheriffs' departments.

THE REPORT pinpoints all locations on rural state highways where five or more reported accidents took place from January to the end of June this year. In addition to showing the number of smashups, the report (which is broken down by counties) also lists the number of persons killed and injured at each place; the figures are compared with those of 1954.

Eighty-two of the total 95 "high frequency traffic accident locations" indicated in the report are intersections. The remainder consist of: curves, bridges, railroad overheads, straight road sections and one railroad crossing.

The leading critical location is in Summit County at the intersection of Routes 224 and 8 where 18 accidents occurred during the first six months of this year, according to the report. There were no deaths in the accidents, however, but eight persons were injured.

Second leading intersection is on Route 40 at Georgesville Rd. in Franklin County where 13 acci-

Engineers Offer Suggestions On North-South Turnpike

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Eight safety and conservation suggestions for the proposed north-south Ohio turnpike were drafted here yesterday by county engineers from 14 counties through which the present and the proposed turnpikes pass.

The suggestions will be drafted into a letter tomorrow by Robert Eastman, Clark County engineer and president of the Ohio Assn. of County Engineers, and L. C. Roush, Sandusky County engineer and vice president of the statewide group.

The letter will be presented to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, the Ohio Turnpike Commission, the state highway department and the J. E. Greiner Co., the engineering firm which recommended the proposed north-south pike route.

Only little more than half the counties along the proposed 400-mile route of the proposed superhighway with its Toledo spur were represented at the meeting. Representatives attended from Ashland, Greene, Ashtabula, Warren, Wyandot, Madison, Wayne, Medina, Marion, Seneca, Union, Morrow, Sandusky and Defiance counties.

These are the points the engineers agreed should be put in the letter to Lausche and the others:

1. Minimum pavement on bridges overpassing the turnpike shall be at least 32 feet wide. Some over-pass pike are only 24 feet, leaving no room to push off snow.

Racing Auto Kills Man In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Racing another car through public square, an automobile careened into a taxi cab early today and then struck two pedestrians, both Cleveland Plain Dealer printers, leaving one dead and the other critically injured.

Dead was David Galizzi, 27-year-old apprentice in the Plain Dealer composing room. Eugene Hess, 64, was taken to Lutheran Hospital in serious condition with a compound right leg fracture and possible broken right arm.

Police spotted the death car, which was abandoned some two miles away. The owner was arrested at his west side home and was brought to central police sta-dents were recorded during the first six months of 1955. Again there were no deaths but 10 persons were injured.

Third highest location is the intersection of Route 20 and Hill Ave. in Lucas County, with 13 accidents, no deaths and five persons injured. Also in Lucas County, the fourth leading location at the intersection of Routes 24 and the route's bypass is charged by the report with 13 accidents, but no deaths and only two persons injured in the crashes.

In releasing the report, U. C. Felty, director of the Department of Highway Safety, said, "It is anticipated that increased attention resulting from intensified law enforcement and highway engineering treatment at these trouble spots will reduce the accident frequency as well as eliminate some of them from the next critical location list."

Director Felty added that "Our department believes this report, made up of statistics, is more than cold facts—and can lead to a reduction in the loss of life and injury at these dangerous locations."

The leading critical location is in Summit County at the intersection of Routes 224 and 8 where 18 accidents occurred during the first six months of this year, according to the report. There were no deaths in the accidents, however, but eight persons were injured.

Second leading intersection is on

Route 40 at Georgesville Rd. in Franklin County where 13 acci-

Sales Tax Data Shows Gain For 14th Week

Averaging $100,000 a day more than collections for the corresponding week a year ago, sales tax revenues of $3,728,561 for the week ending October 15, 1955, were 21.35 percent in excess of collections for the week which ended October 16, 1954, according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy.

This marks the 14th consecutive week in the current fiscal year, which began last July 1, that increases of 20 to 37 per cent, ranging from $620,383 to $1,032,772, have been registered over last year's corresponding weekly revenues in the same category.

As of October 15, 1955, the cumulative grand total collections, which include prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections for the first three and one-half months since July 1, reached the imposing figure of $63,924,437.

Tracy said that this amount reflects a gain of $11,322,510 or 22.52 percent, compared with the overall tax collections of $52,601,927 which were registered on October 16 of the previous fiscal year.

Sales tax revenues are a reliable barometer of trade volume.

Shivers emphasized he was not backing "by name" any pre-conviction presidential possibility.

He announced he plans a nationwide swing early next spring

In addition to showing the number of smashups, the report (which is broken down by counties) also lists the number of persons killed and injured at each place; the figures are compared with those of 1954.

Eighty-two of the total 95 "high frequency traffic accident locations" indicated in the report are intersections. The remainder consist of: curves, bridges, railroad overheads, straight road sections and one railroad crossing.

The leading critical location is in Summit County at the intersection of Routes 224 and 8 where 18 accidents occurred during the first six months of this year, according to the report. There were no deaths in the accidents, however, but eight persons were injured.

Second leading intersection is on Route 40 at Georgesville Rd. in Franklin County where 13 accidents.

Engineers Offer Suggestions On North-South Turnpike

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Eight safety and conservation suggestions for the proposed north-south Ohio turnpike were drafted here yesterday by county engineers from 14 counties through which the present and the proposed turnpikes pass.

The suggestions will be drafted into a letter tomorrow by Robert Eastman, Clark County engineer and president of the Ohio Assn. of County Engineers, and L. C. Roush, Sandusky County engineer and vice-president of the statewide group.

The letter will be presented to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, the Ohio Turnpike Commission, the state highway department and the J. E. Greiner Co., the engineering firm which recommended the proposed north-south pike route.

Only little more than half the counts along the proposed 400-mile route of the proposed superhighway with its Toledo spur were represented at the meeting. Representatives attended from Ashland, Greene, Ashtabula, Warren, Wyandot, Madison, Wayne, Medina, Marion, Seneca, Union, Morrow, Sandusky and Defiance counties.

These are the points the engineers agreed should be put in the letter to Lausche and the others:

1. Minimum pavement on bridges overpassing the turnpike should be at least 32 feet wide. Some over-present pike are only 24 feet, leaving no room to push off snow.

2. Minimum width of county roads approaching overpasses should be 20 feet of roadway and six feet of berm on each side.

3. Minimum slope of side of approaches should be on foot of downgrade for each two feet of width.

4. Minimum base for approaches should be two four-inch courses of waterbound macadam topped by T-32.

5. Maximum grade of approaches and overpasses should be 3½ per cent. Grade on some east-west pike approaches was reported to be 5 per cent.

6. Drains from turnpike shall extend to the toe or foot of the right-of-way slope rather than stop at edge of berm.

7. Changes in drainage, including agricultural drainage, caused by the turnpike should be engineered to carry the water to an adequate outlet, to be done at expense of turnpike commission.

8. Responsibility of repairing roads used for hauling materials to turnpike construction sites shall be placed on commission or principal contractor.

Texas Governor Likes Lausche Too

AUSTIN (AP)—The Democratic Party has many good presidential possibilities moderate in their political views, including Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Texas Gov. Allan Shivers says.

Shivers emphasized he was not backing "by name" any preconvention presidential possibility.

He announced he plans a nationwide swing early next spring

Sales Tax Data Shows Gain For 14th Week

Averaging $100,000 a day more than collections for the corresponding week a year ago, sales tax revenues of $3,728,561 for the week ending October 15, 1955, were 21.35 percent in excess of collections for the week which ended October 16, 1954, according to State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy.

This marks the 14th consecutive week in the current fiscal year, which began last July 1, that increases of 20 to 37 per cent, ranging from $620,383 to $1,032,772, have been registered over last year's corresponding weekly revenues in the same category.

As of October 15, 1955, the cumulative grand total collections, which include prepaid tax receipts, use tax and other collections for the first three and one-half months since July 1, reached the imposing figure of $63,924,437.

Tracy said that this amount reflects a gain of $11,322,510 or 22.52 percent, compared with the overall tax collections of $52,601,927 which were registered on October 16 of the previous fiscal year.

Sales tax revenues are a reliable barometer of trade volume.

for a series of talks with Democratic leaders, underlining his statement that his main objective will be to press for nomination of a candidate who is not at either extreme in Democratic thinking.

Deaf was David Galizin, 27-year-old apprentice in the Plain Dealer composing room. Eugene Hess, 64, was taken to Lutheran Hospital in serious condition with a compound right leg fracture and possible broken right arm.

Police spotted the death car, which was abandoned some two miles away. The owner was arrested at his west side home and was brought to central police station.

Dents were recorded during the first six months of 1955. Again there were no deaths but 10 persons were injured.

Third highest location is the intersection of Route 20 and Hill Ave. in Lucas County, with 13 accidents, no deaths and five persons injured. Also in Lucas County, the fourth leading location at the intersection of Routes 24 and 104, the route's bypass is charged by the report with 13 accidents, but no deaths and only two persons injured in the crashes.

In releasing the report, U. C. Felty, director of the Department of Highway Safety, said, "It is anticipated that increased attention resulting from intensified law enforcement and highway engineering treatment at these trouble spots will reduce the accident frequency as well as eliminate some of them from the next critical location list."

Director Felty added that "Our department believes this report, made up of statistics, is more than cold facts—and can lead to a reduction in the loss of life and injury at these dangerous locations."

Second leading intersection is on Route 40 at Georgesville Rd. in Franklin County where 13 accidents.

Soviet Bans Profit In Property-Owning

CLEVELAND (AP)—Any Soviet citizen can build or buy a house for himself, but cannot use property for profitmaking, Russian construction officials told Cleveland builders.

The 10 Russian officials are observing modern American construction methods on a 13-city tour.

I. K. Kozulua, leader of the delegation, expressed the hope that "individual contracts might lead to closer relations and better understanding" between the Russian and American peoples.

breakfasts during the 1956 General Assembly.

The Rev. Walter C. House, executive director of the League, said yesterday: "Occasionally we hear of evil and selfish forces that try to compromise our legislators and public officials with questionable social functions."

For that reason, he said, moral and spiritual forces should provide opportunities for fellowship among the "God-called men in public office."
